FAB SUPERSTARS JUDGING CRITERIA

Whilst it is an almost impossible task to 'judge' the good deeds and well-meaning actions of people in general, this is an opportunity for the Travel Retail industry to recognise and award such efforts and actions of Food & Beverage employees during what has continued to be a challenging time. As a result, there is a need for an official process to be put in place to do so fairly and with careful, measured consideration.

We can guarantee that judging will not be influenced by the amount of money spent on an entry, by presentation size or by drafting in marketing and PR expertise. Rather, we are interested in the people nominated and the stories behind their actions. What is it that makes them such priceless employees? How far have their actions reached? Please tell us in your own heartfelt words and share details that are soul inspiring and motivational.

At the same time, however, please also bear in mind that clear structure and presentation, plus the clarity of each

“In 2021 we recognised the extraordinary FAB Superstars who had shown individually, and collectively, great kindness and courage in the face of huge pressure. Now, in 2022, we look forward to our world opening up again, and I imagine there will be many more amazing stories of the people and businesses that make our sector special. I’m delighted to be a part of the judging team again this year.”
